

Ancient Persia and its Secrets

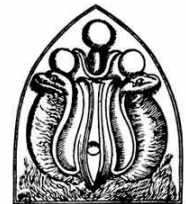

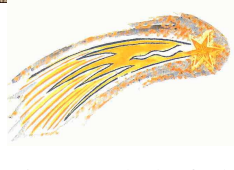

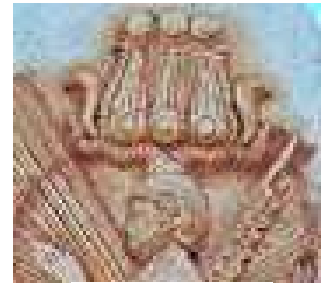

by Josef Kemény, 24-06-2010

Ancient Persia and its Secrets

Ancient Persia also belonged to an era which was characterized by science and knowledge connected to the conquest of the world. Sumer, Egypt, Babylon, Assyria, Persia and the Indian realms (Aztec, Inca and Maya) turned out to be superior in science and knowledge compared to today's people in power (especially powerful people like kings and emperors).

This time we focus on Persia with its proud history, when it was at its peak and blossomed. The realm's great king was Cyrus the great who founded the Persian Empire. Who was this mysterious king? The Jews called him The Anointed, i.e. Messiah. He founded the most powerful empire with a culture and religion which the Earth has never seen. I have compiled this theme according to available material and my knowledge.

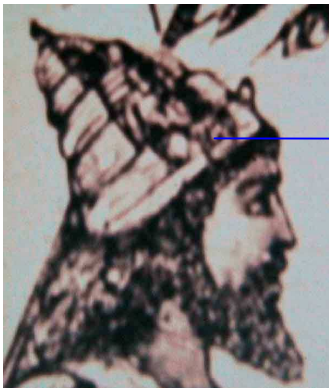

The 5-pointed star is a symbol of planet Venus. Here the star has a tail symbolizing a comet.

The tiara. This tiara belonged to pharaoh Akhenaten (dynasty 18). The base of the tiara is the snake. Why did Cyrus wear this crown?

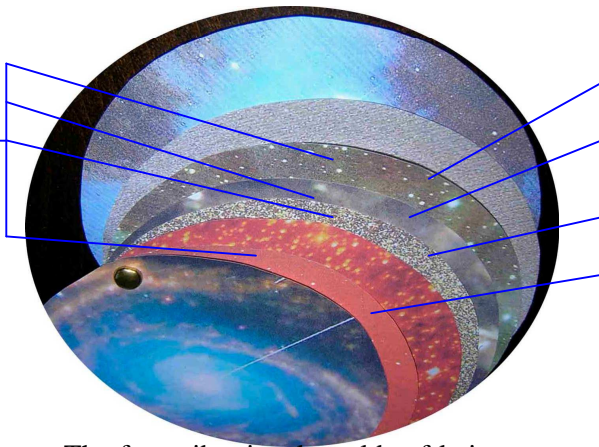

Many people may ask themselves who Cyrus, the great king of Persia and the founder of the world's largest empire, was. Some historians compare him to Julius Caesar. Could he have been the same person, but in a previous life? Normally, in nature, an individual acts in the same way as he or she did in a previous life. This also applies to Cyrus the Great. His emblem was an eagle-like bird. The eagle holds two balls, a third ball can be found on his head. If you tie these three balls together you get a triangle, a triangle can also be named a pyramid. Lots of pyramids forming a square surround the eagle. The country of pyramids is Egypt, we need to return to ancient Egypt and visit some previous pharaohs with symbolic eagles. One pharaoh was Djoser who had an eagle as a symbol. I have connected Djoser to Julius Caesar in a previous text, so the comparison between Cyrus II and Julius Caesar is correct. Cyrus II's original name was Adam, the first Adam/Earthly Adam (see more on pp 8-9). Adam's most powerful enemy was the serpent. Carrying a serpent crown is a constant reminder of the fact that the snake is always present in the dark behind your back.

Crown and Science

Cyrus the great, 559-530

The four-striped crown is a symbol of the four positive worlds in the Milky Way.

The four vibrational worlds of koinomatter in our galaxy.

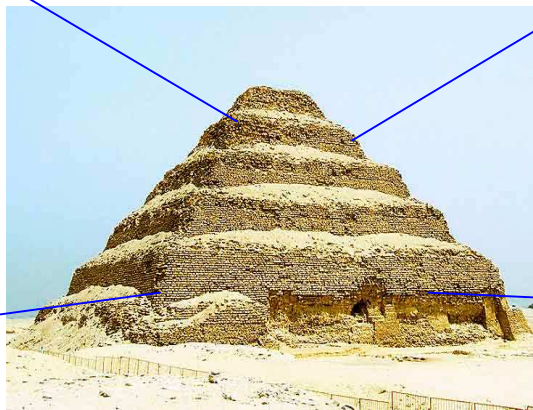

Cyrus the Great, 559-530

The spiral crown with four stripes symbolizes the four positive worlds in the Milky Way.

Cyrus the Great
559-530

Djoser's step pyramid

Cyrus the Great
559-530

Xerxes, 519-465

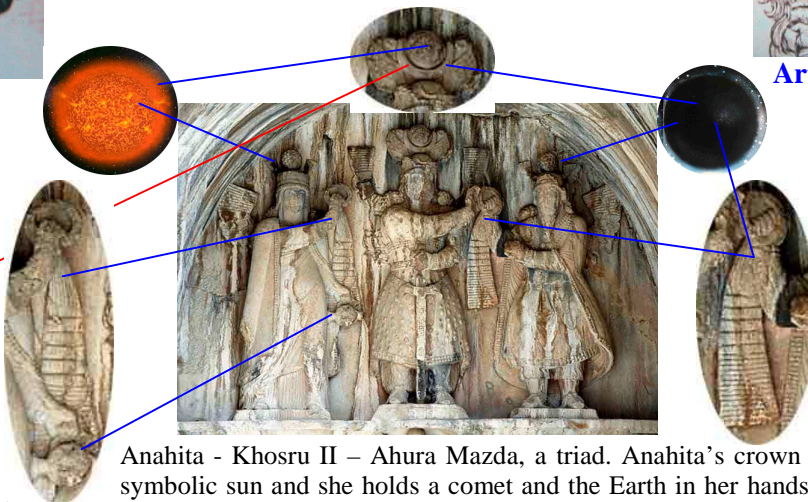

Artaxerxes, 464-423

Khosru II
Sassanid king
590-628

His crown is a binary star system and two wings, symbol of a spaceship travelling between the suns.

Anahita - Khosru II – Ahura Mazda, a triad. Anahita's crown is a symbolic sun and she holds a comet and the Earth in her hands, an illustration of the traffic between the Earth and the comet. At the centre we see the prod King Khosru II with a crown displaying a binary star system and together with Ahura Mazda he holds the neutron star AN in the shape of a comet. Ahura Mazda's crown is the neutron star AN, later renamed Nemesis.

Khosru II
Sassanid king
590-628

A binary system is clearly visible on his chest.

This relief, connected to the seven-branched candelabrum as a symbol of our galaxy, was created during the reign of Darius I. The wriggling serpent hangs above the king's head.

A relief shaped as the seven-branched candelabrum was also created during the reign of Xerxes I. The snake is also here behind the king. Note that the seven-branched candelabrum is the oldest national coat of arms and still belongs to Israel.

Cyrus the Great as a world ruler. In 539 he conquered Babylon, then he did something completely new. He liberated the Jews. They had lived in captivity in Babylon since the day Nebuchadnezzar II destroyed Jerusalem. He is the only non-Jewish person in the Bible named shiakh, or Messiah.

The serpent in the town of Susa, similar to a Star of David. The wriggling serpent in the shape of a Star of David existed in the town of Susa. Also David was known in ancient Persia. David's people were primarily Jews who were liberated by Cyrus the Great. Mural depicting the serpent, where the head of the serpent is a clear message. We can clearly see the spiral coming from the head. The spiral is a symbol of our spiral galaxy and means that it belongs to the serpent and not to Cyrus the Great or his god Ahura Mazda.

Persian Culture and Ahura Mazda

Zoroaster

Ahura Mazda, who is he, he who exists in the hidden world? His message was delivered through Zoroaster. Who was Zoroaster? Let us have a closer look at this deity Ahura Mazda. This is written about him:

Ahura Mazda (Avestan for "the wise master"; from ah-u-ra, from ah, "to be", "being present", to ahura, "what exists", "the presence", and mazda, "the highest knowledge" from maz, "the greatest", and da, "knowledge", "wisdom") is the greatest deity in Zoroastrianism.

He is the deity of life and the provenance of everything but not almighty because of that.

Zoroaster declared him to be the first and last for everything eternal, as a father of good humour, the true creator of truth and the master of all life (Ys 31.8). Ahura Mazda is Vispanam Datarem, the creator of all good (Ys 48.3), and Data Angheush, the creator behind all life. (Ys 50.11). Ahura Mazda is called Spennishta Mainyu Mazda, the benevolent spirit, worthy of your love, Master of life and truth and radiating action (Ys 46.9). Zoroaster invokes Mazda through Vohuman, the good thought. in order to understand the purpose of creation and to reach knowledge about the two creations, the spiritual (menog) and the physical (getig).

Man and Universe were created by Mazda through his special powers; the first one is Asha, truth, justice and cosmic order, number two is Vohuman, the good thought, and number three is Khashathra, Mazda's greatest power, force and his kingdom. This power is connected to the truth and the good thought and Aramaiti, right-mindedness, dedication.

While reading this short summary of the deity Ahura Mazda my eyes fall on the following sentence: "Man and Universe are created by Mazda..." When it comes to the creation of Man I will return to this theme later, on page 8. Universe is part of a higher world which Mazda has never seen and which he will never see, there is no creation of Universe here either.

The short summary of this deity reminds me of some passages from Revelation 21: 5-7. Ahura Mazda is called Alpha and Omega and also the nameless god on his throne far away from Earth calls himself Alpha Omega. A binary star system is also called Alpha Omega. When one sun passes another at certain definite times, terrible catastrophes are created and finish life on orbiting planets. Simultaneously new life is created, lasting to the end of the next period, etc. This system is called Alpha and Omega and is part of nature's own product as a foundation of creation. Binary star systems constitute around 65-70 per cent (which we know about) of our galaxy.

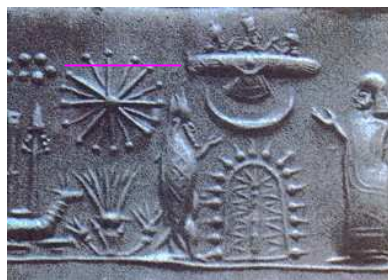

To my mind, this short report of Ahura Mazda demonstrates that he is not present on Earth but is close to us and can be constantly present if there is a need. Personally I see his name Ahura Mazda as the name of someone who is in possession of the ultimate knowledge. If we go back in time to the deity of Sumer and study the father of all gods and heaven, An/Anu, we find a common denominator. Except the paternity issue, he was the master of heaven. You cannot be the master of heaven if you spend all your time on Earth. A must is to be able to travel in space, to be able to live on another planet in another solar system if you want name yourself God of Heaven. On the following page I will have a closer look at Ahura Mazda's emblem.

Ahura Mazda's Emblem

The emblem illustrates a male person. The person exists in a winged circle. The wings symbolize flying and the circle between the wings is an object of flying. In other words: the emblem is a symbol of a spaceship, a means of transport for Ahura Mazda. But space is vast, where is his goal? Two guides project from the winged circle, pointing in different directions. One of them is a symbol of our solar system, the other one points to the solar system of the neutron star Nemesis. This actually means that Ahura Mazda travels between these two solar systems. There is a further very interesting object in the spaceship symbol, namely the circle and he also keeps in his hand a smaller circle. Man's blood group has O or 0 as a symbol and the emblem can confirm that he works for Man, Mankind and the whole global group which has joined Mankind. Ahura Mazda is right now on its way towards our solar system and its estimated time of arrival is December 21, 2012. Further information on the links Dark Matter and its Existence, pp 13-24, The Ark and the Global Flood, National Coats of Arms and Science, and Mayas-Incas-Aztecs and their Secrets, the Maya calendar.

According to my knowledge, An/Anu, Ahura Mazda and the nameless god on the throne outside our galaxy (Revelation 21:5-7) are one and the same person. Neither can we disregard the thought that it was he who had the idea of the blood transformation process in ancient Egypt, Dynasty 0 – Dynasty 4.

A document from Sumer before the global flood. A cigar-shaped spaceship is clearly visible, to the left of the spaceship is the neutron sun and its seven planets. This spaceship is in traffic between these two suns.

A symbolic illustration of Ahura Mazda and his spaceship. He can also travel between the sun and the neutron star.

Darius I below an umbrella in the form of the seven-branched candelabrum and the serpent.

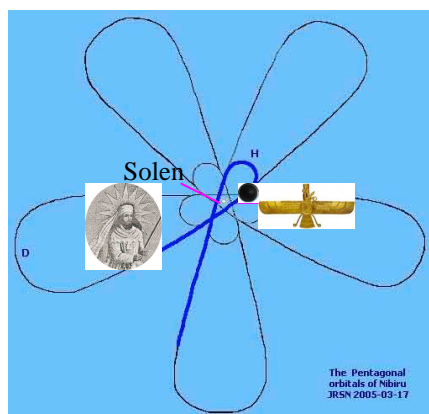

Zoroaster. Who was he? According to preserved existing documents concerning him he was a very intelligent and competent person at a high level of knowledge. According to Zoroastrian tradition he was born on March 26, in 1767 B.C. If the stories about his childhood and growth are accurate, he should have lived in the area east of the Caspian Sea at some time between 1800 and 1200 B.C.

Darius I below an umbrella in the form of the seven-branched candelabrum and the serpent.

Zoroastro's doctrine was for more than a thousand years the dominating religion in Greater Persia (the Persian Cultural Sphere). Today it has only 2.6 million followers.

Around 3,700 years ago Zoroastrianism was founded by the Persian prophet Zoroaster. This Zoroaster, or the "Golden Star", was also a philosopher and a poet. His doctrine has been called the "religion of light" since fire is of major importance for Zoroastrian faith as a symbol of truth and enlightenment.

At the age of thirty the prophet Zoroaster received visions from the supreme god Ahura Mazda (Lord of Wisdom), visions almost similar to confident dialogues. These dialogues were named the Gathas Hymns and are at the centre of the texts of the religion, Avesta. Its doctrine is based on the idea of the free will of human beings, that a human being by his/her words and actions has the power to choose between truth (asha) and lies (drug), between good and evil. The freedom to choose one's own religion is one of Zoroastrianism's basic beliefs which contributed to the fact that the Persian/Achaemenid Empire was characterized by a unique tolerance and openness. The Persian founder of religion was one of the first philosophers to safeguard the freedom of humans. In that way, the message of Zoroaster and Ahura Mazda's emblem are in accordance.

Zoroaster was born around 1767 B.C., a very interesting period. According to his own records Ahura Mazda made contact with him through telepathy when Zoroaster was 30 years old. In telepathy it is important that sender and receiver are at same frequency. The recipient is always the recipient's brain. Telepathy can transmit texts as well as pictures, even movies with audio. The transmitter can be far away in space and the recipient somewhere here on Earth. The same thing happened to Ahura Mazda and Zoroaster. The neutron star AN/Nemesis has its own solar system consisting of seven planets. One of them is "Nibiru", where Ahura Mazda is. When he contacted Zoroaster, AN was far away outside the outer borders of the solar system. The picture to the left tries to illustrate this. AN was on its way back to pass by the Sun in its shorter orbit (around 900 to 1,000 years).

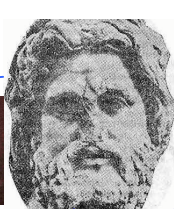

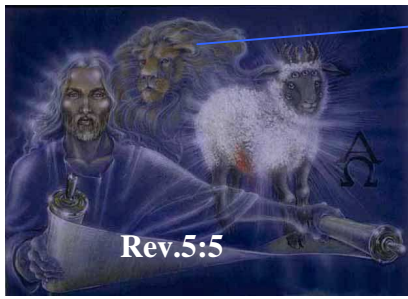

He then sent his message to Zoroaster using telepathy.

I do not think it was a new religion. His message is similar to that of the old heathen culture in which Man is in focus together with Nature, without any prayers and churches.

According to available sources, Zoroaster was killed at the age of 77. At about the same time the Turanians entered Persia from Mesopotamia during a short period of time, thereafter continued to the areas between the Black and Caspian Seas. The Turanians multiplied in Persia during their time of waiting. When time had come, the Turanian people got a new leader called Menroth the Great. But we still have not answered the question about who Zoroaster was. Telepathy may offer some clues connected to transmission and reception of dialogues at the same level of frequency. Family members, for example, normally are on the frequency. If Zoroaster could receive information directly from Ahura Mazda and if they could carry out dialogues with each other via telepathy, then the two were on the same level of frequency. In that way, Zoroaster was a relative, maybe a family member or a son of Ahura Mazda's. If we assume that Ahura Mazda and An/Anu is one and the same person, then we know that his son was Ea/Enki who was later called the First Adam (further information on pp 8-9).

Back to Menroth the Great. I have a strong feeling and certain indications point to the fact that Zoroaster was reincarnated as Menroth. Later on Menroth married the Persian woman Eneth and Hunor and Mogar/Magyar were born in this marriage. Hunor became the ancestor of the Huns and Mogar the ancestor of the Magyars. When time had come, the Turanians split into two parts, one of them remained in Persia and multiplied, the other part went on under the leadership of Menroth the Great to the areas between the Black and Caspian Seas. On the way there, the hunt of the legendary white stag took place, the stag of the sons Hunor and Mogar. The Scythians were offspring of the Turanians, the Huns were offspring of the Scythians and finally, the Magyars turned up.

Looking back we can establish that the contact with Zoroaster came at the right time, the timing was perfect. 354 years after his death, around 1336, the neutron star AN/Aten passed the Sun as a comet and at about the same time the Exodus from Egypt took place. Natural catastrophes happened all over the world and even afterwards, when the planet had left the solar system, many problems remained. During a time like that, it is impossible to give out information about a new message, which takes time to distribute across the world. (Telepathy = thought transference between two brains)

Joseph Jr, Palestina

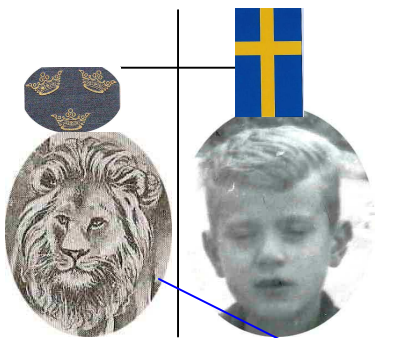

The Persian Fire Iran Shah

There is one more very interesting issue here: the Persian Fire. Zoroaster's doctrine has been called "the religion of light" since the fire is of major importance for Zoroastrian faith as a symbol of truth and enlightenment.

Everywhere on Earth people ask themselves: "What is truth?" We have a number of religions, all claiming to represent the truth. We have various political movements connected to different religions, the Earth has been fed with lies during 2,000 years and there is constant war on the planet. What is "truth" in this sick and evil chaos?

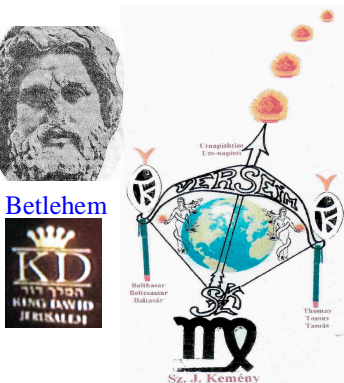

According to Zoroaster, the Persian fire is a symbol of truth and enlightenment. But where is the truth? It exists in the hidden world that we cannot see. To see it we need knowledge as our light. Cyrus the Great reinforced the Persian fire during his reign. In AD 785 the Hindu prince Jadi Rana welcomed a large group of refugees to Gujarat. They had brought ashes from an existing holy fire (atash bahram) and lit a new flame from the ashes from the native soil. The new fire was symbolically given the name Iran Shah, the King of Iran. But this Iran Shah had a very weak flame in the 1970s. At the beginning of the 70s, in 1971, the Lion was silenced. Thereafter Solomo's throne in Ethiopia was overthrown in 1974, the Shah of Iran was removed in 1979 and the fire is finally extinguished, something that should not have happened.

The Lion/Tibor E. and the End of Time
1958-1971
Dan.9-25-26
Rev. 1:7

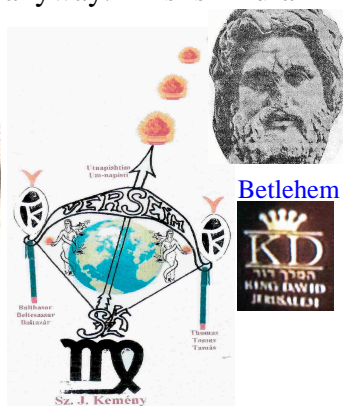

All of the 1970s was strange period. The Lion was silenced and the period "The End of Time" started. The Emperor of Ethiopia was overthrown, Solomo's throne disappeared. In front of the throne stood the Lion of Judah with a cross. Below the cross was written in Amharic: The Victorious Lion of the tribe of Judah. Thereafter the Shah of Iran also disappeared and fire went out. These two strong monarchies should have been allowed to enlighten the 70s a bit stronger to keep the Lion alive. There have been no reactions from the world to the events connected to the Lion, not even from the Jews. We usually say that history repeats itself. If we do not know what happened in the 70s (a decisive period for some religions), how is it possible for us to know what happened more than 2,000 years ago? But there is an ancient tradition on this planet: before the end arrives, truth will come forward anyway. This is Ahura Mazda's decision.

The Victorious Lion of the Tribe of Judah

Rev.5:5

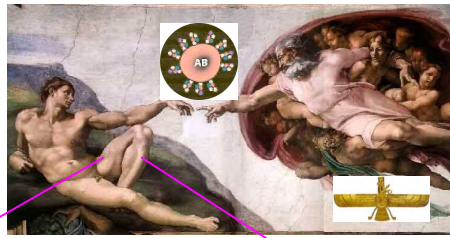

Susa

Daniel

Pict. A

The Father of the Gods and the Lord of Heaven, An/Anu, Ahura Mazda

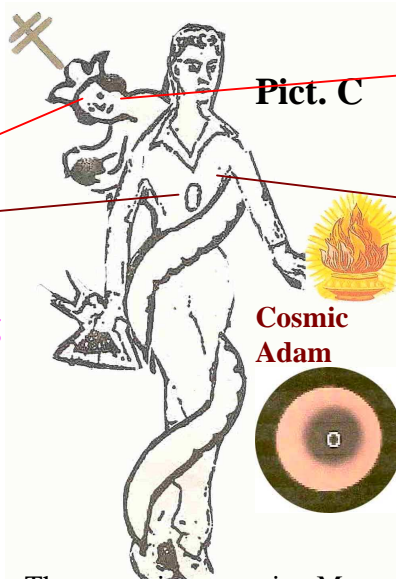

Daniel

Pict. B

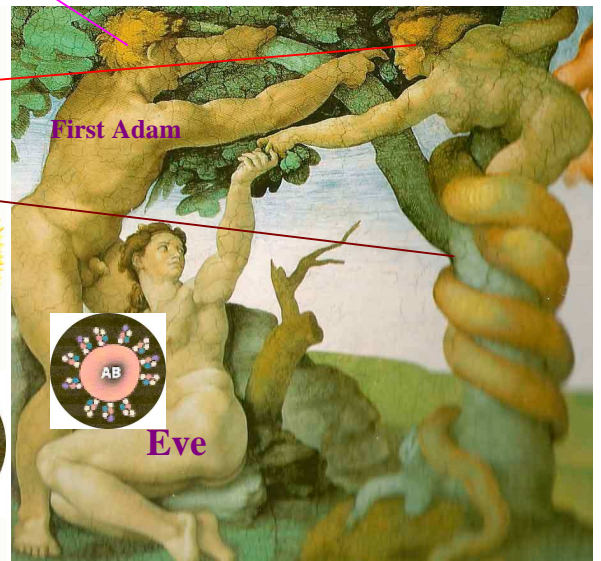

Enki/Ea

Ninhursag

Pict. C

Cosmic Adam

First Adam

Eve

This relief comes from the town of Susa and depicts at the centre the cosmic Tree of Life. To the right is Enki/Ea and to the left of the tree is Ninhursag. We can see that cosmic tree of life is surrounded by seven different spikes. The spikes are symbols of protection in each vibrational world. Each spike symbolizes one vibrational world, seven different spikes are symbols of seven different vibrational worlds. In other words: the cosmic tree of life is represented in each vibrational world with proper protection. We also see a serpent with a twin head wriggling invisibly in the tree of life. Since the serpent is neither man nor woman we can assume it can master both roles in different situations.

The cosmic tree is Man himself. Originally, Man came from a higher world and is represented in each one of the seven vibrational worlds. Therefore he is a symbol of life and knowledge and was already at the beginning called "Light-bearer". Adam means "human being" from Hebrew, in another context it means "Father". Man is the Crown of Creation and there is no more advanced being than Man. Thus, the original Man is Cosmic Adam who is embraced by the female serpent.

Genesis, the Bible, Old Testament. Hebrew translation and Sumerian editing. Enki/Ea was named Adam and since he was begotten here on Earth he became First Adam. The cosmic tree of life is called "Tree of Life". The serpent in female disguise wriggles round the tree of life. The apple in her hand is a symbol of e.g. fatherhood and religion. The tree of life is a symbol of Cosmic Adam, i.e. the original human being. In Talmud, chapter five, captioned "Secrets", two Adams are mentioned. It is said that First Adam has been created with two faces in opposite directions. Cosmic Adam could see from one heaven to another (we should understand Talmud) Ninhursag was given the name Eve. See also Book of Mormon regarding the records of the five original Books of Moses where we find a story of the creation of the world and of Adam and Eve, here are two Adams.

See also the link The Ark and the Global Flood, page 6.

The last paternity issue for my father, TK. His paternity issue took place during the 1970s, from 1975 to 1979 to be exact. The issue contained violence, brutality, fraud, cheating, forgery of documents and murder. He and his family were totally humiliated by the authorities which resulted in him having enough of the brutal handling of the case. His decision was to never again have something to do with any paternity issue, neither on this planet nor in this vibrational world. It seems to be the case that animals never learn. The sign of Man is O/O, i.e. blood O/O, the Son of Man belongs to the same blood group.

Earthly Adam

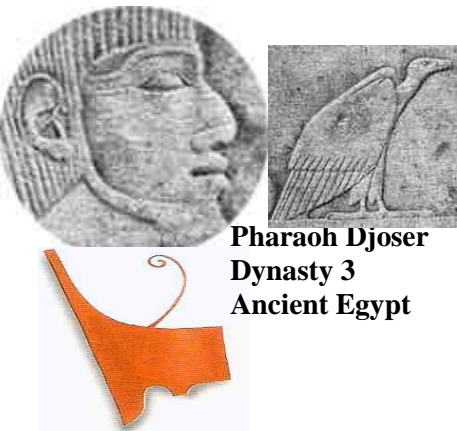

Earthly Adam as Scorpio II, Djoser and Cyrus the Great at different times of history

Earthly Adam as Julius Caesar, Árpád and Tenoch at different times of history.

Pharaoh Scorpio II
Dynasty 0
Ancient Egypt

Founded the flourishing ancient Egypt.

Pharaoh Djoser
Dynasty 3
Ancient Egypt

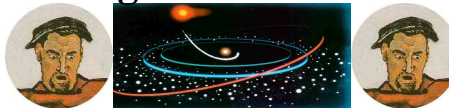

Cyrus the Great, the greatest founder of empires, ancient Persia.

Janus, (lat. Ianus) Roman deity connected to passages and entrance, literally as well as figuratively. The name has been interpreted as being a verbal noun, the going through, the passing, leading to the word ianua, door.

The familiar twin head with two faces in opposite directions turned up twice in history, as messengers. This Janus illustrates Earthly Adam, one face is that of the statesman, king, emperor, and the other face the messenger. He had his first messenger assignment when he was called Zoroaster, when he came into contact with the father of all gods, Ahura Mazda, and distributed his message on this planet.

The Kingdom of Heaven is Close

He got his second messenger assignment when his name was John the Baptist who was the voice of somebody who calls in the desert from Jordan River. His message was a continuation of Zoroaster's which stated that the Kingdom of Heaven was close. The Kingdom of Heaven in this context is the neutron star AN/Nemesis and its solar system. In other words: a new Heaven and a new Earth according to Rev. 21 (relevant for the planet Nibiru). This neutron star in the shape of a comet is about to reach the borders of the solar system on December 21, 2012, it has already been located by astronomers, John the Baptist was right about the Kingdom of Heaven.

Julius Caesar, the greatest leader of the Roman Empire, statesman

Árpád, founder of Hungary, the greatest statesman..

Tenoch, founder of the Aztec empire, today's Mexico.

Tenoch

Susa

Daniel/Belteshazzar

Daniel/Belteshazzar

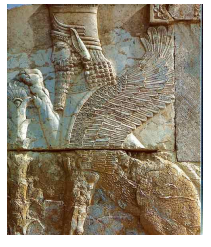

Susa's stronghold in the kingdom of Elam.

Late in life, Daniel lived and worked in the town of Susa when Cyrus the Great conquered the realm.

He probably wrote his original book there. As a teenager Daniel came to his father, who had arrived earlier because of lack of work and troubles in his home country. In Babylon Daniel's had a very difficult and extensive paternity issue with a tragic end. Daniel's family descended from the Turanians who then lived in the areas between the Black and Caspian Seas, they were called Scythians.

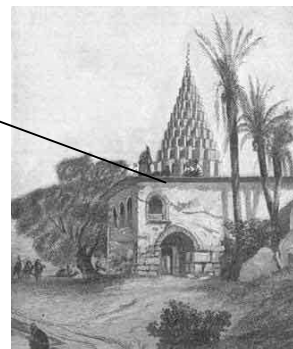

Daniel worked as a natural scientist and architect and he was not a "machine of prayers" which is stated in certain parts of his book. The truth is that his book was thoroughly edited and has its focus on a God that Daniel knew well but did not worship. Daniel was against killing of human beings, gods or animals, regardless of religion and he and his family were vegetarians. Daniel had great respect for his father who was a jack-of-all-trades and Daniel's great master. His own father was at the centre of his life, not the gods. When I read the Book of Daniel I can see what Daniel wrote and what he did not. It is shameful and sad that almost all documents written by our ancestors have been falsified and rewritten for posterity. – See also the link The Hanging Gardens of Babylon.

As early as in Daniel's time, Susa was a so-called cultural centre. Many world famous reliefs could then be visited and studied.

Daniel's tomb

Daniel died at the age of around 100, probably in the town Susa, where he was also buried.

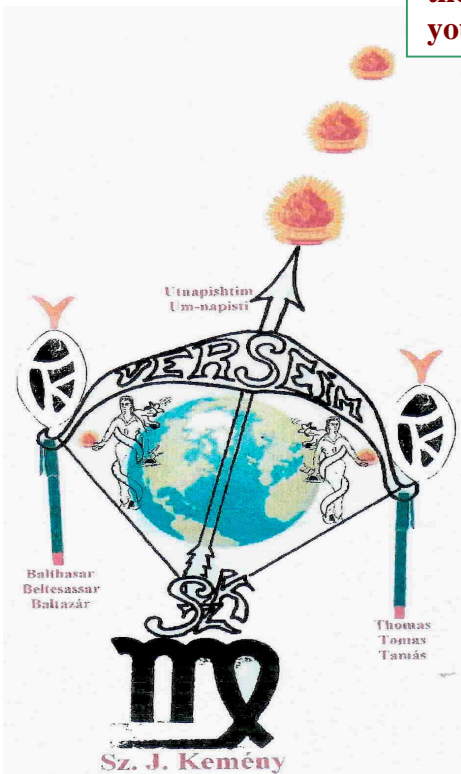

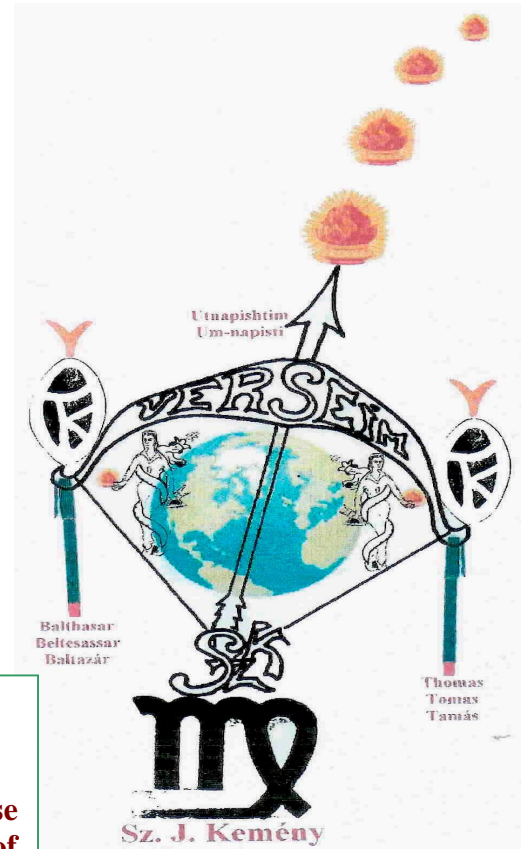

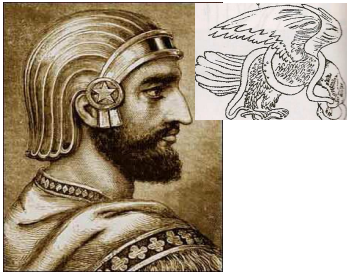

Daniel, 12:4 and 12:13

”/.../ But you, Daniel, close up these words and seal the book until the time of the end. Many will dash about and knowledge will increase”

”But you should go your way until the end. You will rest and then at the end of the days you will arise to receive what you have been allotted.”

The Father of the Gods and

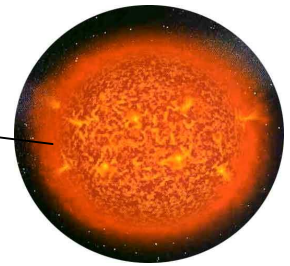

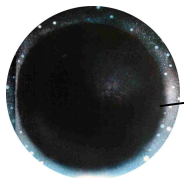

Cyrus the Great

Cambyses I

Cambyses II

Darius I

Xerxes I

Darius III

Artaxerxes I

And His Return to Earth