

Coats of Arms and Science

by Josef Kemény, 21/12/09

National coats of arms and crests of different kinds are always interesting objects for study in a science context. In ancient times, national or imperial coats of arms were always symbolically connected to science.

Sumer Anu, the father of heaven and all gods had his own sign and emblem. After the global flood (Lamech's time) Anu's sign and emblem became known.

The emblem is symbolically connected to science. Further information at the link "Dark matter and its existence", pp 13-15, Science.

Anu's sign and emblem. His tiara symbolically consisted of four worlds, each one at its level of frequency. They were placed inside each other with the tiara as the foundation. At the centre is his sign and to the right of the sign is our galaxy as dark matter, a simple model. Anu is still the father of gods and heaven.

Have a closer look at the link "Dark Matter and its existence", pp 13-15 – Science – and you will learn more.

After the global flood Sumer's breakdown was a fact. The science of Sumer was carried onwards by small gods and goddesses such as Enki, Marduk, Tiamat/Inanna/Ishtar and Gilgamesh. They were all armed with knowledge. This started an almost eternal battle, war and misery about world power, world power which was to be captured by using high-level knowledge and war. Note that also at this link all interpretations are made according to my knowledge and accessible material.

Babylon. Babylon as a great power started to spread in Mesopotamia parallel to the development in Egypt. The most powerful king was Hammurabi, 1792-1750 B.C. His imperial coat of arms (the royal crown) was interesting and impressive in the context of astronomy science. The foremost god of Babylon was Nebo, a Marduk reincarnation.

Nebo

Nebo

The Hammurabi crown actually reminds me of the tiara of the Sumerian godfather Anu. The crown is a symbol of four worlds (of ordinary matter), situated inside each other, each one at its designated level of frequency. The spiral made up the unity of the crown. The crown symbolized science around astronomy/cosmology.

Egypt's star started to fall after dynasty 4 and the ancient Babylonians had plans to continue the proud scientific period of Egypt. Babylon's crown, the imperial coat of arms, was shaped like a spiral. This reminds of the spiral which was attached to the side of the red crown in Lower Egypt. No doubt about the fact that the crown of Hammurabi/Babylon was the next important coat of arms after that of Egypt.

Assyria. Another realm which became a world power paralleling Egypt was Assyria. The Assyrian crowns were also specially designed. This was important in astronomy, thus a symbol of science. Astronomy was especially important in Assyria, e.g. when it concerned different worlds in our galaxy/the Milky Way, similar to what is depicted on the Hammurabi/Babylonian imperial coat of arms. Material/documents from Assyria reveal that (certain) kings were in contact with extra-terrestrials, in those days called angels. The angels' symbols were wings which in turn symbolized a flying object, a spaceship.

Seen from the solar system of the neutron star AN/Nemesis, the Sun seems to be a crescent. The planet Nibiru (the Earth's sister planet) is marked as the innermost planet in the solar system. This is real, modern astronomy, which we miss today.

Ashurnasirpal II, 883-859 B.C. Around one thousand years have passed since the reign of King Samsi-Adad, but their scientific program was intact. They still knew about the binary star system. King Ashurnasirpal II points to the eight-pointed star, being a symbol of his god. From the solar system of Nemesis, the Sun looks like the moon crescent during certain periods. We can clearly see this in the picture. A snake shaped as the letter V, Victoria, is placed between the neutron star and the Sun, which can also symbolize a pentagonal orbit.

Shalmaneser III, 858-824, King of Assyria and Jehu, 842-815, King of Israel, in a meeting where the latter surrendered to the Assyrian king. The most important issue of the meeting was to prove the existence of their respective gods using knowledge. Jehu, the King of Israel holds a six-pointed star in his hand as a symbol of his god, linked to the Giza plateau. The six-pointed star was in fact of the Kingdom of Judah. Shalmaneser III, on the other hand, has a crescent moon in his hand, then symbolizing the Sun, since the Sun is seen as a crescent from the solar system of the neutron star. A spaceship hovers between the kings. The spaceship reveals it can service the seven vibrational worlds in dark matter in our galaxy. Further information at the link “Dark Matter and its Existence”. In the Bible, they are called “Seven Heavens”.

Sargon II and the pyramid. Here we can see a pyramid rising towards heaven. The pyramid looks like Djoser's step pyramid. The question is: what was the purpose behind the pyramid?

The God of Assyria.

The bull god Gilgamesh appeared in the Assyrian kingdom with the name Assur and became its primary god.

This is a spaceship which serviced the Sun and the neutron star.

The Assyrians were also interested in the binary star system. In the picture we see the eight-pointed neutron star and its solar system of seven planets.

In the Bible these seven worlds are called seven heavens. Moses, for example, knew about these when he received the message about the Menorah on Mount Sinai.

Titus's triumphal arch in Rome, 70 A.D. The Romans knew exactly what to steal.

The seven-branched candelabrum is a symbol of seven worlds, three of the seven worlds consist of antimatter, each at its level of frequency, placed inside each other.

The seven vibrational worlds
The seven heavens in our galaxy, the Milky Way.

The seven-branched candelabrum is a symbol of seven worlds, four of the seven worlds consist of ordinary koino matter each at its level of frequency, placed inside each other.

The seven-branched candelabrum is thus a symbol of the seven different lights from different worlds, the seven connected worlds constitute dark matter. In the model we can also discern knowledge of the neutron star.

In the model we can clearly see that world/branch 1 and 2 are in the same position but at different levels of vibration. The same is true for world/branch 3 and 4 and 5 and 6. World/branch 7 is an axis that runs together with the axis of the galaxy, the galaxy's centre.

Israel or the ruling God has not created a universe, on the other hand he has built a simple model of our galaxy, the Milky Way. I also built a similar, simple model of our galaxy. One model is around 3,348 years old, the other one only a year. If we compare these two models and connect them as I do above, we see how a full galaxy is constructed. In Exodus 25:40 there are instructions on how to build the seven-branched candelabrum and we can read: "and they must be made according to the pattern I showed you on the mountain". Moses saw a model or pictures of the seven-branched candelabrum and it was important the model was correctly built according to instructions on the mountain. A correct model mirrors the galaxy and proves the fact that the ruling God possesses knowledge about the galaxy and universe.

According to Moses' records God landed in his spaceship on mount Sinai a number of times e.g. Exodus 19:16-20 and 20:18-23. Ezekiel describes God and his spaceship in the same way.

Midnight mass from the Vatican in 2008 and the giant comet.

The return of the neutron star Nemesis as a gigantic comet is fast approaching. According to the Maya calendar and other sources the comet will reach the borders of the solar system on 21 December, 2012. The comet has been found and is constantly watched over. Also Nostradamus writes about this giant comet and the binary star system.

When time has come, everybody on this planet will be able to see this comet with the naked eye, "the abomination of devastation" which was mentioned by Daniel in his time. It will ravage the solar system for about 40 years causing natural disasters. The latest visit was in Moses' days when he wandered with Israelians around Mount Sinai for 40 years. The global climate change is to 80% caused by cosmic radiation and the comet is called Alfa and Omega

Man's Own World

The ultimate goal
without politics and religion

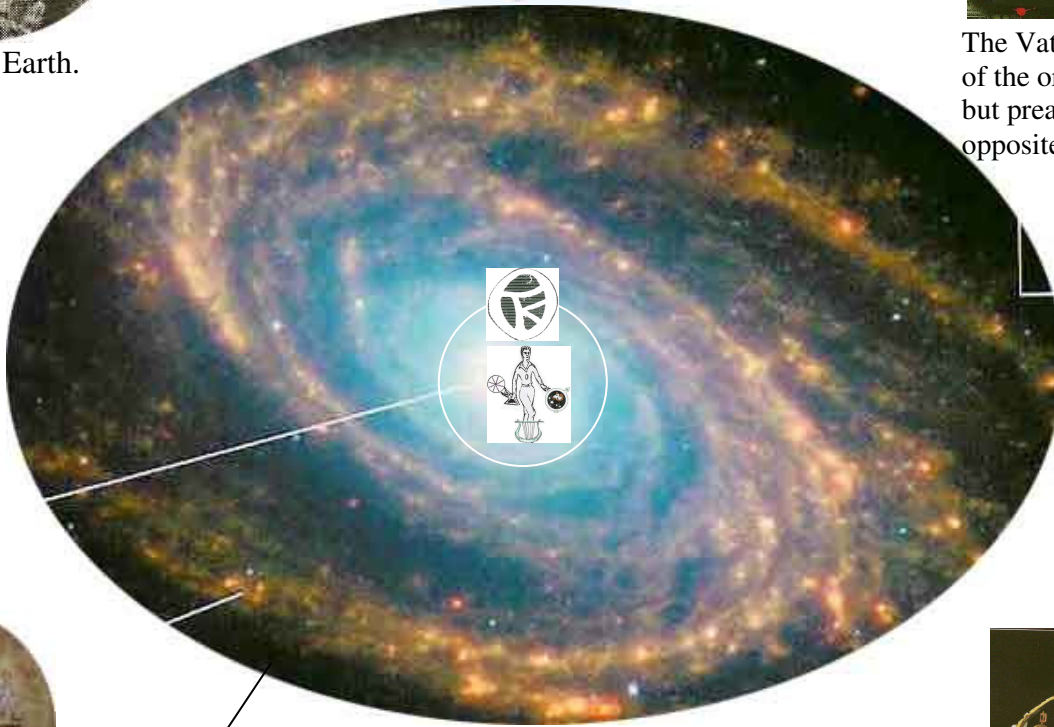

Returning to Earth.

The Vatican knows the truth of the origins of Christians, but preaches exactly the opposite because of business.

X

How many people from Israel will finally end up in Man's World?

X

How many people from Earth will finally end up in Man's World?

How many people from Hungary will finally end up in Man's World?

Do not forget that Man is the Crown of Creation. A human world is being created inside the galaxy. A world free from animals, religion, politics, war, murder, lies, money/economy and madness, a world totally unknown on this planet. From the seven vibrational worlds people gather to build this new world. Innumerable human beings are there already, many are on their way. But nobody knows how many people from Earth will end up there because those who are already there, or on their way, will never again return.

Entry qualifications: Being Man, vegetarian, have knowledge about nature, neither murderer or liar, neither rich nor wealthy, free from drugs and alcohol, living a simple and honest life. Then you are at the same level of frequency as the gate and are allowed to pass through. Further information at the link "Dark Matter and its Existence" page 9.

Man – Ape - Animal

Short about the Origins of Man

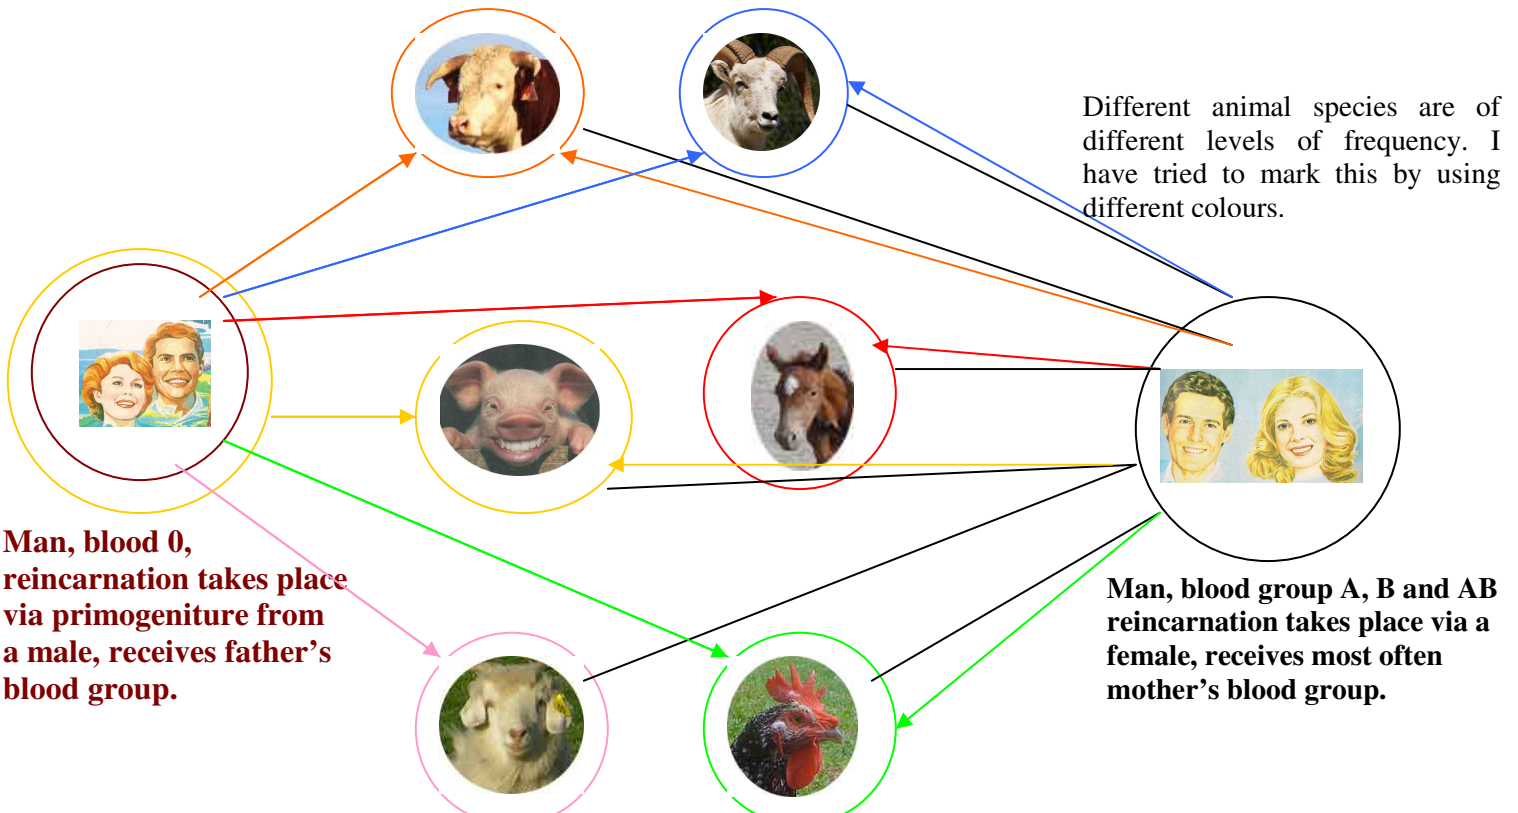

Origin: God or Darwin? Neither God nor Darwin. Man has nothing to do with either God's creation or with Darwin's theory of evolution. Nobody knows who created the first human being, we will probably never know. There are massive amounts of gigantic worlds where human beings exist and live, human beings just like us. The same conditions are also valid in micro worlds. Man is Nature's own product.

According to Darwin's theory of evolution Man, ape and animals have a common ancestor. But in theory and reality there is no evidence proving how Man with blood group 0 came to be. Darwin's theory is biological utopia. An animal can never produce a human.

But if we turn Darwin's theory round and place Man as a common ancestor we get another image and come closer to reality. If we expand that theory we find that Man can produce an animal in the following manner. See the process below.

Man, blood 0, reincarnation takes place via primogeniture from a male, receives father's blood group.

Man, blood group A, B and AB reincarnation takes place via a female, receives most often mother's blood group.

Man is a product of Nature. Man exists at a certain level of frequency symbolized by blood group 0, a wine-coloured circle. This is called the human level of frequency/vibration. As long as she does not break any laws of Nature she has eternal life. However, if she breaks the natural laws, she loses her human self, her blood, her blood group 0 for ever. It will change into another level of frequency. The reasons can for example be that she uses various animal species for food (e.g. pork, swine products), that she abuses alcohol and other drugs or is a murderer, a fraud, a liar. In other words: she breaks the laws of Nature.

When time has she departs due to, for example, illness. At the moment of death she no longer exists at the human level of frequency. It changes into an animal level, for example to the yellow ring, the level which symbolically depicts the frequency level of the pig/swine. Thus, at the moment of death she is deeply asleep and meanwhile the frequency level is conclusively changed, in this case into that of a pig, symbolized by a yellow ring. When she wakes up again, she wakes up as a little piglet in the animal kingdom without knowing what to expect. The same goes for other domestic animals which are basic food for human beings. All animals of today were once people and people's forefathers who are today eaten by descendants. To a certain extent we can thank science for this. Exactly as we can read it in the Bible: The Lie has prevailed and the Earth and its people perish. This is what we call degeneration, similar to a cancer disease. Pay close attention to transmigration in Hinduism. My motto is: "Knowledge is Life and Life is Knowledge." (Each reincarnation yields a worse result than in a previous life. This is valid for the majority of the world's population. This is the biggest problem. Besides murder, robbery, lies, injustice, fraud, all major crimes, the consumption of red meat is the most dangerous activity a human being can engage in. Lack of knowledge can create enormous problems for each individual. As long as we are human beings, reincarnation knows no limits. If we are not human beings any more, reincarnation into a human being is limited. – Above I symbolically describe the last stage when a human being loses his/her humanity. To transform from a human being into an animal takes its time, many reincarnations are required for the transformation process.)

What is an ape? Actually, an ape is a DNA-creation which failed. Also in earlier days there were plenty of researchers, professors and experts who tried to copy and fool Nature and create an even better human being than Nature's own. The result was an ape. Today there are several species of ape. The ape has landed between Man and Animal. Thus it is neither a human being nor an animal

There is no third alternative besides life and death. We cannot fool or bribe Nature, we cannot buy Life. There is a saying: Better late than never. Maybe now is the time to start adjusting to the laws and rules of nature and start living according to them. Simultaneously we all have our freedom and each individual has a right to make decisions about his/her own life and destiny.

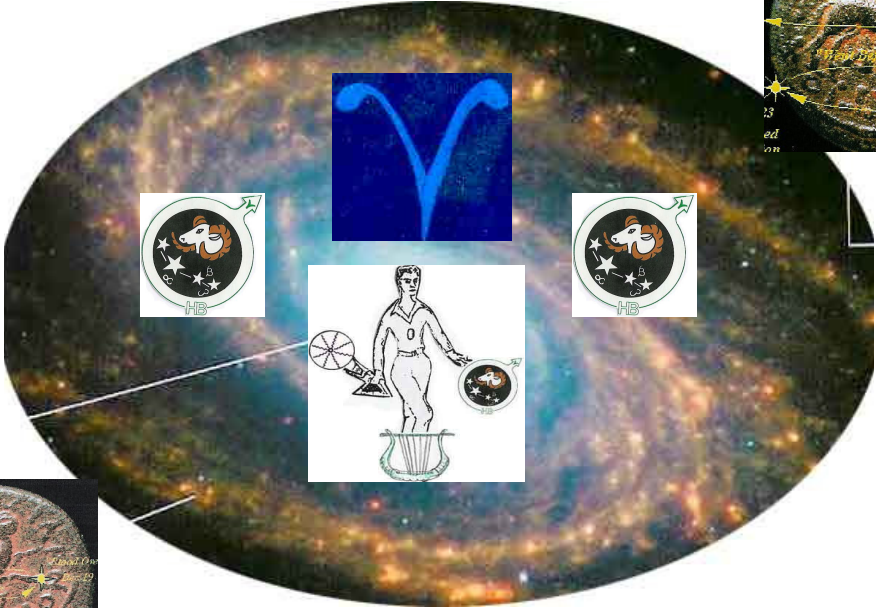

There are people across the globe living close to nature, a simple life, a long, healthy life and this is of course a plus. In other words: Knowledge is Life and Life is Knowledge.

Besides the inner parts of the galaxy where a new human world is being created, there are two more gigantic places inside and outside the galaxy which attract creatures from all seven worlds. In this case there is a dependency on a higher power which decides who will be allowed to take part...

All over the world there is a so-called "vegetarian revolution." going on at full speed to improve public health. This is human counter-reaction in the sick world we live in. An excellent braking power.

In my latest book I describe in more detail the world which is about to be created inside the galaxy: the gate and some evidence of its existence. I also briefly describe the two gigantic places inside and outside the galaxy.
